"The Bloomingdale opening represents another important step in our brick-and-mortar strategy," said Ezra Ernst, CEO of XWELL. "We're excited to introduce our full suite of wellness services to Brandon, giving the community a trusted destination for self-care. This opening – along with our recent others in Waterford and Clearwater – demonstrate that XWELL is successfully executing its strategy to expand wellness services to customers where they live, work, and travel."

Today's opening also marks an exciting milestone as the first XWELL location to feature a Nurse Practitioner as part of the team. At launch, the store will offer medical services such as Botox and Dermal Fillers, with additional medical services to follow. Guests attending the celebration will receive complimentary gift bags while supplies last.

The Bloomingdale debut continues XWELL's momentum in Florida. Just last month, the Company announced the debut of its Waterford Lakes Wellness Center in Orlando.
